

SKILLS ASSESSMENT

Overview

How do you know if your engineers have the correct skills to utilize all of the benefits SOLIDWORKS can offer?

The Skills Assessment session is ideal for companies who have grown their team of SOLIDWORKS users or for situations where your current team could benefit from advancement in the software knowledge.

The personalised assessment method allows us to test candidates in any area pertinent to their role or your company's specific needs.

What we will cover:

- Do your SOLIDWORKS users have the correct skills?
- Are users creating models that can easily be modified by others?
- Is there a 'weak' link in your team?
- Produce a personal training plan specific to individual needs
- Encourage a common way of working across your team
